Inspiring Tomorrow's Professional
Engineers and Designers

A small investment today, a greater reward tomorrow

A small investment today, a greater reward tomorrow

The Arkwright Scholarships Trust is a registered charity which was established in 1991 by Design & Technology (D&T) teachers keen to promote careers in engineering amongst Year 11 pupils. They believed that encouraging talented young people to go into engineering would improve the prospects of British engineering companies and open up more career opportunities for young people.

Engineers are vital in so many aspects of our lives today. With urgent global and domestic engineering challenges still to be solved, we must ensure our top young people are given all the support and inspiration they need to become part of the solution in meeting and solving the engineering challenges of tomorrow.

The Arkwright Scholarships Trust does this by inviting high ability 15/16 year old Design & Technology students who are planning to study Maths and Physics, and have an interest in engineering, to apply for an Arkwright Scholarship as they start their 'A' Level/Scottish Highers courses.

The Trust believes that young people, including those from disadvantaged backgrounds, who are particularly able in design, technology and engineering, should receive the support and encouragement they need to reach their full potential.

Why not invest in a young engineer today...

You will be contributing towards a young engineer's:

- Self-confidence and self-worth
- Improved career prospects
- Funding to enhance their D&T studies
- Mentoring and support by one of Arkwright's national team of Liaison Officers
- Access to career awareness days, work experience opportunities, networking with Arkwright alumni, sponsorship through University

How you can help...

- Sponsor a Scholar – currently £2,000 over two years (£1,000 a year) – help inspire the next generation of engineers
- Make a general donation to support our work promoting engineering in schools
- Pledge a monthly or annual donation via direct debit
- If you can't help now, why not include Arkwright in your Will
- Encourage others to support a Scholarship Award
- If you work for an engineering/design company or architectural practice, find out if your company would like to sponsor a Scholar, host visits or offer work experience for Scholars

"I count myself fortunate to have become an engineer. Sponsoring a scholar is a way of sharing that good fortune with a new generation of engineers."
